Re: Kodak Alaris Equipment Test Reports

To whom it may concern,

Kodak Alaris operates an extensive refurbishment program for a wide range of its electronic and electrical equipment for the EMEA market. The work done in this program does not affect the electromagnetic compatibility or product safety properties of the equipment. Consequently, the original test reports obtained when the equipment was first commercialised are valid for all Kodak Alaris equipment.

If you have any questions please contact the undersigned,

Yours sincerely,
